WOULD COME BACK IN 1928

SPANISH WAR VETERANS LIKE MARYVILLE.

WANT V.F.W. MEETING

Effort Will Be Made to Secure Convention Here in 1928—Condon Named State Officer.

Delegates from many cities and towns in Missouri are homeward bound today following the closing of the state encampment of United Spanish War Veterans and auxiliaries here late yesterday afternoon.

This morning only a handful remained and they departed for their homes later in the day.

"We're going to Trenton next year but we'll try to return to Maryville in 1928."

That was the way many of the delegates felt about the convention here, which, they said, was the best encampment in the history of the organization.

Maryville may secure another veterans convention in 1928, as a result of efforts which will be started soon by members of the local Veterans of Foreign Wars post. Next year's convention of this organization will be held bers, who will attend, will extend an bers, who wil lattend, will extend an invitation to hold the 1928 gathering in Maryville.

Edward V. Condon was chosen senior vice-commander at the V. F. W. state convention in St. Joseph last week. Mr. Condon was formerly junior vice-commander of the state organization. J. S. Moody of St. Louis was chosen state commander and R. R. Calkins of St. Joseph, junior vice-commander. H. E. Loux of Jefferson City was chosen chaplain and O. O. Evans of St. Louis, quartermaster. L. B. Konedelsdorf, also of St. Louis, was named officer of the day, and W. J. Onostopolis, also of St. Louis, adjutant. Dr. Robinson of St. Joseph was elected state surgeon and Colonel Edwards of Kansas City, selected on the Council of Administration.

Much favorable comment was heard regarding the veterans convention held here this year, and it was pointed out that an assembly of this kind is of great benefit to the city.

Harry D. Snyder was in general charge of the convention here and it was largely through his efforts that the meeting was secured for Maryville.

Ernest Alexander in Politics in Oklahoma

Former Maryville Boy, Now Optometrist At Duncan, Seeks State Senate Seat On Democratic Ticket.

Dr. Ernest B. Alexander, former Maryville boy, now an optometrist in Duncan, Okla., announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for the Oklahoma state senate in last Sunday's Duncan Daily Banner.

Dr. Alexander, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Alexander of this city, has adopted the slogan of "more business and less politics in government." The present incumbent is not a candidate to succeed himself, and the only other candidate in the race for the Democratic nomination is C. S. Storms, editor mayor of Waurika.

The Duncan Daily Banner quotes Dr. Alexander as follows:

"I am in this race in earnest," Dr. Alexander said yesterday. "I expect to make a clean, aggressive campaign. I have no selfish political ambitions. My only object in announcing for this important office is to render unselfish service.

"I filed for the state senate without consulting politicians. I shall form no alliance with any clique or other candidate, and shall conduct my campaign on a high plane, free from personalities, and, if elected, will endeavor to conduct my office in the same manner."

Dr. Alexander has lived in Duncan for six years. He has been prominent in civic and fraternal activities and has been active in Boy Scout work. He has been a Democrat all his life, he added.

One more plank was added to his platform when he announced that he favored "the repeal of all unnecessary laws."

Mrs. Pickens Here.

Mrs. Nina Pickens, a former resident of Maryville but now living in Kansas City, arrived last night to be the guest of friends.

To Arrest or Not to Arrest, the Question

Fulton Officers Will Face Jail If They Attempt to Collect Fine From Kansas City Police.

Kansas City, June 24.—The police of Fulton, Mo., may collect a fine of $14.50, which they assessed against Kansas City police detectives, who went to Fulton to bring back alleged automobile thieves, but they will have to come here to arrest their men and if they do, they will find themselves in jail.

The fight arose when three Kansas City detectives were fined for driving their car without a license and they failed to convince the Fulton officers they had a right to drive the car for which a state license had been purchased.

WOULD PROVE BREWER FUND

SENATE COMMITTEE ACTIVITIES ARE DIVERTED.

CHARGES BY WHEELER

Senator King Says Superintendent Of Pittsburgh Police Should Be Removed From Office.

Washington, June 24.—An effort by Wayne B. Wheeler, generalisimo of the Anti-Saloon League, to prove the existence of a brewers' slush fund in the recent three-million-dollar Senatorial primary today diverted the Senate committee from its searching investigation into the political activities of the Anti-Saloon League of America.

Wheeler made the charge in a secret session of the committee and volunteered to produce witnesses to prove that Pennsylvania brewers had raised a large campaign fund with which to influence the outcome of the three-cornered Senate race.

Wheeler charged that the wet interest throw their support to Representative William S. Vare, who won the nomination over Senator George W. Pepper, a nominal dry, and Governor Gifford Pinchot, the Anti-Saloon League candidate.

Rumors in Senatorial circles indicated that Wheeler would bring a number of officers of the Pennsylvania Anti-Saloon League here to substantiate his charges if the witnesses would be heard in executive session. The committee was reported to have agreed to do this, reserving the right, however, to make all the testimony public later.

Washington, June 24.—Peter Paul Walsh, superintendent of the Pittsburgh police department, should be removed from office for his alleged efforts to force Pittsburgh police to vote for Senator George W. Pepper and John S. Fisher in the recent Senatorial primary, Senator King, Democrat of Utah, declared today during an examination of Walsh by the Senate slush fund committee.

King told Walsh he had violated the spirit and letter of the civil service law and ought to be removed.

Drilling Suspended, More Casing Sought

Work at the Quitman oil well was suspended yesterday afternoon and G. H. Rose, driller, went to St. Joseph today to get the six-inch casing needed for the hole.

The well went no deeper yesterday, as the drilling was in "cavings" which filled the hole while reaming was in progress. Both night and day crews were employed in the work yesterday, and the former did not go on duty last night.

Water Again Being Pumped From River

Water was being pumped from the 102 river into the city reservoirs this morning for the first time in two weeks. Heavy rains have kept the river so muddy that the city drew upon its adequate reserves rather than have such a heavy deposit of sediment in its newly cleaned basins.

Mr. Turner's Brother Dies.

Mrs. J. J. Turner and son, Wayne left last night for Omaha to attend the funeral of Mr. Turner's brother, who died yesterday. Mr. Turner was called to Omaha yesterday morning.

STUDENTS ASK FOR COLBERT

PETITION IS SIGNED

Board Of Regents Is Asked To Reward Dean For Twenty Years Of Service.

More than a thousand students of the State Teachers College, assembled in a mass meeting late yesterday afternoon, unanimously voiced their high esteem for Dean George H. Colbert, who has announced he will retire from the college on Sept. 1, and voted to petition the Board of Regents to elect Mr. Colbert chairman of the mathematics department, thus relieving him of his deanship duties, or to give him emeritus standing.

Speeches Are Made.

The action of the students followed closely on the public announcement the preceding day that Dean Colbert would sever his connection with this institution September 1. That the mass meeting was a "pro-Colbert" gathering was evidenced from the start. Speeches were made by a dozen students, men and women, of all ages, expressing their high esteem for Dean Colbert and urging that every honorable means be employed to secure his retention on the College faculty. Speeches were made by Russel Hamilton, David Max, Clarence Bush, Mary Hansell, J. D. Decker, Clarence Rising, Wilbur Cox, T. M. Walton, O. C. Williams, Mary Lewis, Irene O'Brien, Floyd Cook, W. H. Watkins, and Wilbur Williams. Ray Blomfield, president of the Student Council, presided at the meeting.

A petition was signed by more than 900 students in less than four hours.

Wells Pays Tribute.

A fitting tribute by C. E. Wells and a tremendous ovation by the student body were given Dean Colbert at Assembly yesterday morning. Mr. Wells, acting president of the College in the absence of President Lamkin, presided at Assembly. In referring to Dean Colbert's departure from the College he said:

"Before I ask Mr. Phillips to introduce the speaker of the morning I want to say a word in reference to the notice which came out in yesterday's paper that Dean Colbert is leaving this institution at the end of this term.

"It is not more than fair at this time that we stop for a moment to express our respect for him and our regret that he is leaving. After twenty years of unfailing service to the institution he stands today with unblemished record of service as a man of untiring efforts to give the best that is in him. He has at all times given the best of his time and more than that, he never refused to go on the second mile.

"I believe there is no man or woman on this faculty who has the respect of faculty and student body that Dean Colbert has. I do not believe there is one of our faculty who has the mature right, unbiased judgment that Dean Colbert has. For the many years I have worked with him I have looked to him as a safety valve. When I was ready to blow up and lose patience I have been kept from it by talking matters over with Mr. Colbert. It is no more than right that we should as a student body and faculty show our respect and express our regret to him."

Students In Ovation.

At the conclusion of his remarks the entire student body rose to its feet and gave Dean Colbert a mighty ovation. Cries of speech were heard from the student body, but the Dean, overcome with emotion, rose to his feet and said:

"Someone has said that speech is silver and silence is golden. This morning I will have to give you some of the gold."

As the Dean sat down the Assembly broke forth in an other ovation.

St. Joseph Man Held for Drunkennes

John Sester, who has been working here but who gives St. Joseph as his home, was arrested this morning by B. F. Dougan, chief of police, and will be charged with drunkenness.

Court Adjourns to Meet Again July 19

Jury in Barnard Bank Suit Finds Against Edgar Henderson But for J. M. Henderson

An adjournment of circuit court was taken last evening until July 19. Several cases scheduled for trial at this time could not be brought up until later, attorneys stated.

Judge Guy Park of Platte City, who has been sitting for Judge John M. Dawson, will return to Maryville at that time. The petit jury was finally discharged.

The jury in the case of the Barnard State Bank vs. J. M. Henderson and Edgar Henderson brought in a verdict last evening. The jury found for the plaintiff and against Edgar Henderson on both grounds of the attachment and then found for J. M. Henderson, one of the defendants, on both grounds of the attachment.

FIVE SPILLED IN CAR CRASH

HOPKINS BASEBALL PLAYERS IN A COLLISION.

HIT AT INTERSECTION

Five persons were scratched and bruised and one of them more seriously hurt when two automobiles crashed about 6:30 o'clock last night at a road intersection about two miles west of Burlington Junction.

The injured persons were members of the Hopkins baseball team who were returning home from Rock Port after a game there yesterday afternoon. The most seriously injured is Ted Baldwin, 20 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Baldwin, near Hopkins.

He sustained a fractured frontal bone just above his right eye, and also minor cust and bruises. At Francis Hospital, where he was brought following the accident, he was reported getting along very well this afternoon.

The less seriously injured were Dick Milliken, driver of the car, who was pinned beneath it, together with Baldwin, but who escaped with bruises; Mart Davis, Delmar Carmichael and O. C. Thorburn. All live in or near Hopkins except Thorburn, who is a student at the State Teachers College and whose home is at Fillmore. Baldwin also is a Teachers College student. He was a member of last winter's basketball squad.

The car in which the players were riding was a new Chrysler touring model. It was struck by another car emerging from the intersecting road and was completely overturned, landing on its top with wheels in air. The names of the owner and occupants of the other car were not learned.

The Chrysler car was stolen from Milliken recently and, when recovered, had been stripped of tires and accessories. This time the top was smashed, the windshield shattered, fenders and running boards torn off and otherwise damaged, but after the steering gear had been straightened the car was driven to Hopkins under its own power.

Hopkins won the ball game, 6-2.

10,000 Men and 10,000 Freight Cars Needed

Topeka, Kan., June 24.—Ten thousand men and ten thousand freight cars are needed immediately to take care of the harvesting and transporting of the Kansas wheat crop, according to officials of the state board of agriculture. Most of the men and cars are needed in central Kansas where the yield is exceeding the estimate by from ten to fifteen bushels an acre.

Henry Orme's Hounds Kill Wolf in Field

The hounds of Henry Orme killed a young wolf in the sweet clover field of J. R. King the other night and were hot on the trail of a big one—one said to be bigger than a large Collie dog.

TO SPEAK AT N. E. A. MEET

LAMKIN TO GO TO PHILADELPHIA SATURDAY NIGHT.

CANDIDACY IS BOOSTED

St. Joe C. of C. to Indorse Local Educator for Presidency.—Sunflowers To Be Distributed.

Uel W. Lamkin, president of the State Teachers College, will leave Saturday night for Philadelphia, where he will attend the annual convention of the National Education Association, June 27-July 2. Mr. Lamkin will speak at two sessions of the convention. He will address the general session next Wednesday on "The Child's Greatest Need—the Professional Teacher" and will later speak to the meeting of secretaries of state teachers' associations. His subject at that time will be "Purposes of Organizations of Teachers."

Mr. Lamkin has been indorsed by the Missouri St. Joseph Teachers' Association for the presidency of the N. E. A. Although he has never announced that he will permit his name to be presented for the office, the St. Joseph Chamber of Commerce is planning to further his candidacy at the Philadelphia meeting. The St. Joseph organization is making an appeal for growth of the air mail service into St. Joseph and is co-ordinating Mr. Lamkin's candidacy in its campaign.

Kansas City, Kan., June 24.—When the Kansas delegation arrives at Philadelphia for the annual convention of the National Educational Association, June 27 to July 2, the Quaker City will be strewn with the flowers that made the state famous—the sunflower. During the convention 6,000 paper sunflowers will be distributed by the Kansas delegation. They were made by pupils at the Kansas City schools at one of the general sessions of the association.

The flowers have the names of the pupils who made them attached to the stems, with the addresses given and the teachers at the national convention receiving the sunflowers as souvenirs will give the names and addresses to their own pupils, who will be expected to write to the children in Kansas City.

Barber Is Started for State Prison

Family Of Former Cashier Bid Him Goodby At County Jail.—Four Other Prisoners Taken.

Robert N. Barber, who was sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary, for defaleations as cashier of the Northwestern Bank of Burlington Junction, was taken to Jefferson City this morning by Sheriff Lowell B. Campbell.

Barber was sentenced by Judge Guy Park of Platte City in circuit court Tuesday morning when he pleaded guilty to a charge of embezzlement of $487 from the bank and also for forging the names of Luther Fast and Irvin Fast to a note for $1,000.

Others taken to Jefferson City by Sheriff Campbell along with Barber were.

Aden Owens and J. E. Smith, who were given sentences of three years each for stealing sheep.

Lee Pate, who was given three years for stealing a car, and his accomplice, Quincy Hubbard, who was given two years.

Barber's family, consisting of his wife, his son, Robert, Jr., and his daughter, Mrs. Wayne Nicholas, of Burlington Junction, were at the county jail this morning to bid farewell to their husband and father.

Sheriff Campbell, accompanied by W. J. Montgomery as guard, took the five prisoners to Jefferson City, leaving Maryville this morning on the St. Joseph bus. They will arrive at Jefferson City about 5 o'clock this afternoon.

It is thought that Barber will be given clerical work at the penitentiary.

Pickering Road to Be Completed Next Week

Nearly four miles of concrete paving had been laid this afternoon on the state highway from Maryville to Pickering. The work is progressing rapidly now, and the entire project probably will be completed next week, according to Engineer Davidson, in charge of the work.

Posses Search for Band of Kidnappers

Douglas, Ariz., June 24.—With the arrival of dawn today, several posses, representing the United State and Mexican governments, Cochise county deputies and Douglas police, started anew a relentless search in Sonora, Mexico for the supposed kidnappers of Aimee Semple McPherson, noted evangelist of the Angelus temple, Los Angeles.

The searchers were centering their efforts in an attempt to locate the shack near the border where Mrs. McPherson was held prisoner for several days, according to her story, and from which she escaped Tuesday morning.

The rugged character of the country over which the posses are working prevents the use of horses in backtrailing the trail in the desert wastes left by Mrs. McPherson.

FRENCH PRESS STANDS ALOOF

ON NEW CABINET IT IS RESERVED BUT NOT HOSTILE.

THE TENTH ATTEMPT

With Caillaux as Minister of Finance, M. Briand Enters on New Try at Stabilization.

Paris, June 24.—The new Briand-Caillaux ministry will be judged by its action, the chief organs of the press intimated today in commenting on the cabinet formed last evening.

Press comment was marked with reservation but without hostility. One royalist newspaper alone termed M. Caillaux "traitor and assassin."

One fascist organ predicted that Caillaux would force Briand out of office in a short time and assume control himself.

The character of the government generally received the approval of Paris newspapers, it being pointed out that five members of the government, in addition to Caillaux, were financial experts. Those referred to were Chapsal, Pietri, Buboin, Nogaro and Dutriel.

The Echo de Paris asserted that the Caillaux program called for strong economical stabilization of the franc and European economic solidarity which would permit France to obtain credit from other than Anglo-Saxon nations.

The new ministry was presented to President Doumergue last night.

Premier and Foreign Minister—Aristide Briand.
Finance—Joseph Caillaux.
Justice—M. Laval.
Marine—M. Leygues.
War—General Guillaumat.
Commerce—M. Chapsal.
Agriculture—M. Binet.
Colonies—M. Perrier.
Interior—M. Durand.
Education—Professor Bertrand Nogaro.
Public Works—M. Daniel-Vincent.
Labor—M. Durafour.
Pensions—M. Jourdain.

The French political situation shifted sharply when Caillaux, stormy petrel of French politics, accepted an invitation to take the new ministry of finance in the new Briand cabinet.

M. Caillaux will take the portfolio which M. Briand had reserved for former President Poincare. M. Poincare finally declined to take the post after he had explained his reasons before a meeting of prospective cabinet members.

M. Briand went to Elysee palace to inform President Doumergue that he had failed in his mission, but the president prevailed upon him to try again.

FARM RELIEF BILL KILLED

SENATE DEFEATS MEASURE 39 TO 45.

MEANS NO AID NOW

Only Hope Is For Compromise Measure—Senator Reed Assails Dawes and Hoover.

The measure was opposed by administration and eastern Senators.

It already had been defeated in the House.

Defeat of the measure paved the way for consideration of administration substitute bills.

The vote was: 45 to 39.

The farm bloc's efforts for what is considered adequate relief was begun all over again when Senator Norris, Republican of Nebraska, re-introduced the Dawes plan with a single amendment.

The changed portion would make an equalization fee principle apply to corn and cotton as well as to wheat.

The vote was a defeat for the farm bloc, which had staked all its hopes on the bill.

Earlier a farm measure, known as the Haugen bill, was defeated by the House.

The administration attacked the McNary bill as economically unsound.

The result was somewhat of a surprise, as a half hour earlier the Senate had approved the Dawes plan by the same vote, 45 to 39, when its supporters sought to substitute the Robinson farm loan plan.

At 1 o'clock, under a unanimous consent agreement, debate on every amendment to the measure will be limited to five minutes, thereafter farm bloc leaders will maneuver for a call for a vote at the most favorable moment.

From a poll taken, it was indicated that even one or two unlooked for votes might defeat not only the bill itself but all chances for farm relief legislation at this session.

If the Senate passes the measure, which, technically, is an amendment to the Haugen co-operative marketing bill, it will have to vote upon and pass the whole bill before sending it back to the House for reconsideration. The House defeated the bill once this session.

Senator McNary, Republican of Oregon, co-author of the bill, will offer a perfecting amendment today, which would restrict the aggregate sum advanced under the provisions of the bill for stabilization of cotton surplus prices to 75 million dollars. This amount represents half of the total of the 150-million-dollar equalization fund provided in the bill for controlling surpluses in wheat, cotton, oats and corn, through storage and exportation.

Washington, June 24.—Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, assailed Vice-President Dawes and Secretary of Commerce Hoover in a speech in the Senate today in closing debate on the Dawes-McNary-Haugen farm bill.

"I hope the Dawes plan over in Europe isn't as rotten as this bill is," Reed declared. "I have been told that the vice-president has approved the measure."

Referring to Herbert Hoover by name, Reed declared "no more damnable or infamous outrage was ever perpetrated upon a free people" than Hoover's war time regulations on farm products.

Weather

Somewhat unsettled tonight and Friday; not much change in temperature.

THE ONLY DAILY PAPER IN NODAWAY COUNTY

THE WAY OF THE TRANSGRESSOR

The following editorial is from yesterday's Kansas City Star:

It is hard to understand such a case as that of Robert N. Barber, the bank cashier of Burlington Junction, Mo., just sentenced to ten years in prison. He not only betrayed the trust put in him by the depositors, but the faith of the whole community in which he lived. He was respected by all who knew him. He was active in the affairs of his town and section. He was regarded as a wise counselor in business, personal and even domestic problems. Such a reputation is worth cherishing. To deserve and to have the esteem of the public is good fortune in itself. To have it and throw it away is to leave little worth saving.

It has not been revealed what Barber did with the money he took from the bank of which he was cashier, but he took a lot of it. He was not putting it aside for a future competence, that is almost certain. He was not satisfied with normal prosperity, with the leadership he had acquired among his people, with the confidence his friends imposed in him. He capitalized his good reputation and betrayed the community, and for what? For some indulgence or ambition—and ten years in the penitentiary.

Just as a matter of practical common sense, honesty is the best policy.

All Summer School Enrollments Shrink

Figures From Four Other States Show Decrease Here Is Less Than Elsewhere.

That the decrease in enrollments of Teachers College summer schools is widespread, is evident in reports from Teachers Colleges of four states other than Missouri, received by President J. A. Serena of Teachers College here. During the last few days he has heard from Teachers Colleges in Iowa, Kentucky, Illinois and Kansas through people who have been at the college, all stating that there is a decreased enrollment under that of last year.

Paul Fleming, professor and magician, who gave a performance at the college Friday evening told President Serena there was a drop in the enrollment at the Normal School of Normal, Ill., at which he gave a performance shortly before coming here. Decreased enrollments are noticeable in Teachers Colleges of Pittsburgh, Kan., and of Bowling Green, Ky., according to Jess Cofer, manager of the Coffer Miller players, and here with his troupe today after a visit at the Kansas college, and according to Mr. Fry, a photographer who visits summer schools to take pictures of the entire student body.

A letter received by Prof. Christiansen, a member of the summer school faculty, states that there are 600 students less in this year's summer session of the Iowa State Normal of Cedar Falls, Ia., than there were last summer.

Present enrollment of the college and training school here is 1310, there being a decrease of 160 in the college department under last year's enrollment.—Cape Girardeau Southeast Missourian.

The present enrollment of the Maryville State Teachers College is slightly over 1,200, about 200 less than last summer.

Jack Rabbit Tackles Auto Near Sheridan

Tuesday evening as Jack McCall and Ed Runyon were headed toward town in a Ford, a jack rabbit jumped into the road ahead of the car and made a dive for the windshield. The car was going toward the setting sun, and the sun's reflection may have blinded the jack, but at any rate he took a header, striking the lower half of the glass and landed in the back of the car—dead. Jack who was driving, was not touched by the flying glass, but Ed suffered some bad cuts on the back of his right hand and a slight puncture just below the right knee.—Sheridan Press.

FARM GLIMPSES

BY BILLY TILSON.

The corn in Atchison township in most places is looking fine. The farmers are putting in every minute in the fields. Clover is being put in the mow, oats looking fairly good, pastures are good and stock of every kind is making a good growth.

A. A. Porterfield, southeast of Clearmont, has eighty acres of corn that will have to be layed by this week.

John Burch, near Clearmont, had seven teams in the fields yesterday plowing corn. Mr. Burch has a fine prospect.

A. M. Hazelton, south of Clearmont, has a good field of fall wheat and it is turning fast and will soon be ready for the binder.

Quite an acreage of corn in north of Clearmont will be layed by this week. Those that planted early have fine fields barring just a few that had to replant. James Milbanks thinks that they have as good a prospect for a good year as they have had in several years.

Duffey Wallace, who drags the road from the Atchison Township line on the south to the State line on the north that runs through Clearmont, is certainly putting that road in fine condition for traveling and it is a pleasure to drive that way. Atchison township is fortunate in getting a man like Mr. Wallace to look after its main roads.

The 12-year-old son of Forrest Martin, living northeast of Clearmont, sustained a fractured arm yesterday as a result of being kicked by a horse.

Thirty-four men, with teams, yesterday went to the farm of Merl Simpson, east of Clearmont, who sustained a broken leg two weeks ago and who is still confined to his bed. The men plowed a forty-seven-acre field in about two hours. Those who helped in the work were Russell Holmes, Harry Gray, Edward Gray, Clark Gray, Charles Gray, Eddie Gray, Everett Gray, Rolla Cable, Jack Glenn, William Hoy, Jake Cox, Harley Cox, Berl Hensley, Rolla Blaine, Sam Ripley, Schuyler Donnell, Harry Holmes, Glen Thomas, Cal Clouse, Clarence Gillispie, Howard Bancroft, Charles Wallace, Rolla Bancroft, Stanford Pense, Albert Wallace, Adrain Reynolds, Lloyd Simpson, Dale Edwards, Devern Edwards, Russell Wallace, Otis Pense, Will Simpson, Ola Horn and William Kellogg.

These kind of deeds and the spirit in which they are done are among the things which make life worth living, and Mr. Simpson extends his deepest gratitude to all.

Ross Wallace of Clearmont has his large concrete swimming pool completed and it is now open to the public. Mr. Wallace has let the contract for a new modern residence to be built on his lots in the southeast part of that city.

Fred Wendle of Wilcox shipped out a fine load of hogs the first of the week to the St. Joseph market. Fred says hogs are certainly bringing home the "bacon" for those that have them to market.

Pioneer Cattle Man, Known Here, Is Killed

George B. Baker received word this morning that John May of Higgins, Tex., step-father of H. C. Doyle of Kansas City, was killed by an automobile at Amarillo, Tex., on Monday night. Mrs. H. C. Doyle was formerly Miss Mary Campbell, a niece of Mrs. George B. Baker and Mrs. E. F. Wolfert of this city.

May was a pioneer cattle man of Texas and had thirty-two sections of land in that state.

E. C. Wolfers Wears Shoes 44 Years Old

(Hopkins Journal).

E. C. Wolfers president of the Bank of Hopkins, appeared on the streets this week wearing a pair of shoes he said was 44 years old. He got this pair when he was connected with the Wolfers Mercantile Company in 1882. The shoes at that time "pinched his feet," so he laid them aside and happening to run across them the other day decided to put them on so he could lay claim to be wearing the oldest pair of shoes ever worn by anyone in Hopkins or Nodaway county Missouri or in the United States for that matter.

Visit Maryville Friends.

Mrs. J. T. Pierce of Indianapolis, Ind., accompanied by her son and family, Capt. and Mrs. John Pierce and children, May and Jack, and her daughter, Mrs. Carl Seamman, and children, Joy and Jimmie, of Tarkio, were guests yesterday of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Montgomery. The Pierce family formerly lived in Maryville. Capt. Pierce has just completed military training at Fort Riley, Kan., and will be stationed at a Texas Fort. He and his family are en route to the Minnesota lakes.

Dr. C. M. Chilton of St. Joseph to Wed

Engagement of Former Maryville Pastor to Miss Ethel Hutchinson of Dorchester, Mass., Announced.

Announcement of the engagement of Dr. C. M. Chilton, pastor of the First Christian Church of St. Joseph, and Miss Ethel Hutchinson of Dorchester, Mass., a suburb of Boston, was made yesterday in the St. Joseph News-Press.

Dr. Chilton is a former pastor of the First Christian Church here, and although he has been gone many years he is frequently called upon to officiate in Maryville weddings or funerals.

The date for the wedding has not yet been selected, but it is expected that the marriage will take place before the end of the year. The following notice appeared in a late issue of the Boston Transcript:

"Announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dana Hutchinson of Dorchester of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Ethel Hutchinson, to the Rev. C. Madison Chilton, D. D., of St. Joseph, Mo. Miss Hutchinson, who is a graduate of Smith College, is a granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Dana Hutchinson, who were old-time prominent residents of Roxbury and on the maternal side Miss Hutchinson's grandparents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Tuttle of Dorchester. Doctor Chilton, who is a graduate of Drake University of Iowa, is now pastor of the First Christian Church in St. Joseph."

The minister told a News-Press reporter that he would leave St. Joseph August 8, to spend his annual vacation in Boston and Maine woods, but that the wedding would not take place while he was on this trip.

The first intimation to his friends here that Doctor Chilton expected to be married came some weeks ago while Miss Hutchinson was visiting in Kansas City and came to St. Joseph for a day or two with friends. Doctor Chilton is dean of the St. Joseph ministry, having been pastor of the First Christian Church there twenty-seven years. He is a member of the free public library board and is one of the most popular ministers of the city.

Receives $1,025 From Leghorns in 6 Months

Mrs. Bertha Ulmer Tells Of Profit To Be Made From Raising Chickens —Has Original Stock.

(Hopkins Journal).

Hopkins, Mo., June 22, 1926.

Dear Deacon:

After reading about the big totals received for hogs as told in the Journal the past few weeks, I decided to send in my Leghorn total.

From Jan. 1, 1926, to June 21, 1926, the income from my 300 hens is $1,025.00. This does not include deposits for future deliveries or value of chickens on hands. I still have my 300 hens and about 1400 young chicks.

This is just a side line (by a farmers wife) on a STOCK FARM.

If we could hear from a poultry (Leghorn) farm, I am sure those Cottage Grove avenue STOCK FARMS would have to back up, probably so far they might land in the 102 river.

I wonder if Mr. Alexander and Mr. Pistole and the other will tell us how long they were getting their hogs to market and if they didn't consume a lot more grain and other feed than my Leghorns.

Yours in haste,
MRS. BERTHA ULMER.

The BOBCAT

BY HENRY C. ROWLAND

Reg. U. S. Pat. Office.

SYNOPSIS.

Big Tim Burke, real estate operator, and known to his associates as a land pirate, discharges one of his young lieutenants called Pol Gaillard, because he is irritated by the latter's sleekness of appearance, and nonchalant manner. Pol learns that his ex-boss covets a desirable piece of Long Island property owned by Professor Husted and that another land shark, Michael Cadrigan, is after the same bit of land. Cadrigan lives on the shore of Long Island sound with his step-daughter, Veronica. His estate is across the bay from that of Professor Husted. The old professor lives like a hermit, and Veronica is his only visitor. Cadrigan asks Veronica to discontinue calling on the old man, intimating that the professor's enemies may harm her. Noticing a sloop anchored opposite the house, Veronica suggests to her step-father that they call on the owner. They are invited on board, and their host introduces himself as Pol Gaillard, posing as an itinerant poet and artist. That night Pol rows over to the Husted house and while he is ashore his sloop is cut adrift. He rows over to his boat and releases his second anchor. The next night he and Veronica meet at Professor Husted's house. On leaving Pol finds his boat has been scuttled. Veronica tells Cadrigan of Pol's experiences. Cadrigan, as well as her servant, Luigi, hint at some mystery surrounding the professor.

INSTALLMENT XVI.

SALVAGED.

At the end of ten years to the date, Professor Husted had calmly demanded an official examination as to his sanity, and, should this prove satisfactory, his release with restitution of all legal rights and titles and the management of his estate. The alienists appointed could find no just reason for denying this, and the professor was, therefore, adjudged sane dismissed. Altogether his had proved a puzzling case, principally in the fact of his never having caused anybody the least trouble or inconvenience, nor protested his sanity nor shown the slightest disposition or desire to leave the grounds. He had at certain anniversaries, these shortly before the date of his admission, seemed silent and depressed, been noticed praying at his bedside, even requesting that his meals be served in his room.

As he was a man of means and liberal in his presents to attendants though not unduly so, the professor was easily star boarder of the institution. Such kinsfolk as he possessed had never attempted to interfere with his property, the management of this being in the hands of a lawyer of the place, one "Judge" Talbot, who proved no more communicative on the topic of his friend and client's interment than was the said client himself.

Veronica had been furnished the foregoing vague, unsatisfactory data by Cadrigan. It left a great deal unexplained, conspicuously why the the professor should possess such an aversion for Cadrigan himself and refuse to see or speak to him. Yet there was a reason of a slim sort for this. Veronica knew that not only had the professor been a lifelong friend of her mother's family, the Maltbys, but that he had also been her mother's hopeless suitor and devoted friend. His professed atheism and early cynical attitude toward all that the lovely Puritan girl most revered had repelled her. No doubt there had been also, in his youth, a sort of uncouth harshness about Professor Husted and a contemptuous indifference to the religious precepts of people of her class, as well as the customs and habits of a society for which the best adjective is perhaps that curious American one, "refined."

But Veronica knew her mother had in later years got over this early antagonism and had, before her death, gone to visit her early suitor, when some sort of understanding had been reached. Veronica more than half suspected that her mother never believed that the professor was in any way mentally deranged, and that she might even have commended her daughter to his future protection should he return to the world again. She had, at any rate, expressed the wish that Veronica befriend him, should ever the occasion arise.

He had once or twice sent for Veronica when he was in the retreat. Cadrigan had not opposed her visits to him. Veronica had found him always gentle, sometimes a little jocose in a subdued sort of way, and some few times she had surprised in his deep-set luminous eyes an expression that brought the tears to her own. She had always felt the sense of mystery, but never given it much thought.

But at this moment here was Pol to be thought of. It vexed Veronica to be saddled with this responsibility. She could not seem to come to any conclusion at all about her opinion of this young man, his personal qualities and attainments.

Luigi reported that he had placed in the launch some of Mr. Cadrigan's flannels and sport costumes that had become uncomfortably snug. Veronica went down to the launch, of which she understood the handling, and set out alone across the bay. It was about eleven in the morning, the tide just starting to ebb. Then when halfway across Veronica, looking for the mast of the sloop, discovered the small vessel drifted in on a shingly beach, where at low tide the whole of her would be high out of the water. Even at that considerable distance, she could see a figure.

Evidently Pol was at work there and the professor probably at the house. Also, Pol should have no great need of borrowed clothing, as he had only to dry and press his own. Veronica decided to leave it, however, and return. She landed on a sort of a half-submerged stone wall, and went to the house carrying her bundle. Nobody responded to her knock. The painted dagger had been wiped off. She set out for the spot on the shore where the boat was beached. Approaching the top of the steep bank, she came on the professor sitting with his back against a ledge of rock under the shade of a wild cherry tree, a portfolio and a Bible at his side. He was watching Pol who, in khaki trousers and sleeveless shirt, was working some chocks under the bilge of his boat.

"I thought you would come here if I did not go to the house, my dear. Our energetic young friend was up at dawn and over to the town and back at five o'clock with a launch and two pontoons. Without much trouble we got a couple of chains under the boat at low tide and floated her in on the flood."

Pol came scrambling up the bank. He looked bigger in his sleeveless shirt than dressed, less of a stripling. His lean face with its flat cheeks and bony prominences gave him, when fully clad, a deceptive look almost of physical frailty. Veronica now observed, slightly to her embarassment, that bands of brawn were conspicuous as he hauled himself to the top of the bank by a line fast to the cherry tree.

"Good morning, Miss Cadrigan," he said. "Salvage operations are in progress."

"Is your boat much damaged?" she asked.

"Scarcely at all. A few holes punched through her bottom planks with a crowbar. I've been under her. It must have been a premediated job by somebody who had watched my movements and knew that I prowled after nightfall."

"Why do you prowl after nightfall?" Veronica asked.

"Because of Professor Husted's 'No Trespass' signs. I did not wish to disrespect them, but felt the need of exercise. The professor has forgiven me."

"One must make allowance for a brother poet," said the professor.

"I brought you some clothes of my stepfather's" said Veronica, "so that you could keep your engagement for Sunday dinner with us."

"You are very kind," said Pol. "I shall borrow them for today. This afternoon, when the tide is out, I can retrieve my own. Then I can plug the holes in the boat and float off with the next high tide."

"Then you think," said Veronica, "that somebody was just waiting for a chance to sink your boat."

"I am sure of it," said Pol. "I don't believe your call had anything to do with it, or my going with you to Professor Husted's house. It was an act of malicious sabotage on the part of somebody who hoped that I might think it to be done by Professor Husted because I had invaded his privacy in lying directly off his house."

"I hope that nothing of value has

GOOD HOPE

Joe Clymens laid by one field of corn last week and Leman Morehouse laid by a little patch yesterday morning that surely has the county beat for beauty. It really outgrows the weeds, and thick? yes, but that doesn't matter, it all grows.

Leman put up his first cutting of alfalfa and clover Monday, about fifteen loads of mighty fine hay. His sons, John and Robert Morehouse, and Guy and Loy Blanchard helped him in the afternoon. They put it in the barn.

While the men seem to be rushing their work, the wives are not idly standing by. They, too, have been rushing the berries, cherries, garden hoeing and poultry work. Yes, we all work, for the farmer "feeds the world."

Mrs. Tim Butts who lives in Denver, Colo., has been visiting her parents and other relatives since last week and Sunday, she with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wells and her brother, Ross and family, were Sunday dinner guests of G. B. Ulmer and family, and today Mrs. Butts' niece, Mrs. Lela Ulmer Harris, will entertain the W. W. Club in her honor. Mrs. Butts was once a member of the club.

Joe Miller is quite ill at his home, but the last report was that he was resting some better. His sister, Mrs. B. W. Smallwood and the Rev. Mr. Smallwood, from Graham, came up Sunday afternoon to spend a few days with him.

The Children's Day program came off fine last Sunday morning at Good Hope. A good crowd, a good collection and everyone seemed happy. Many attended the Workman Chapel home coming in the afternoon. Next Sunday at Good Hope is the regular preaching day, with Sunday school at 10 o'clock a. m. All are invited.

Roy Johnson from Maryville attended the services at Good Hope Sunday and visited his daughter, Mrs. R. G. Ringold and family after services.

Mr. and Mrs. Loy Blanchard motored to Burlington Junction last Sunday from Good Hope and were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Beaver. Mrs. Blanchard and Mrs. Beaver are sisters.

Mrs. Herman Hull, who so recently moved from Maryville to Evanston, Ill., near Chicago, visited Mr. and Mrs. John Morehouse a couple of days last week while Mr. Hull was transacting business in Maryville. The Hulls lived in our community several years ago.

If all goes well, Mrs. John Morehouse expects to go to Omaha Thursday evening for a few days visit with a sister and family.

Jake Young, a brother of Mart, is here from Montana and Wyoming for a visit. Jake used to live here and is not in good health now.

been stolen," said Veronica.

"There was nothing of value to steal," Pol answered. "The small amount of cash I carry was in my pocket, and my check book in a locker. The meanest trick was to leave Nightingale to drown."

"What are you going to do about it."

"Take steps to retaliate," said Pol. "A number of rapid steps—almost immediately."

Veronica gave him a puzzled glance. She discovered then that although Pol's eyes had resumed the sleepy look of the day before, there was a gleam in them.

"What do you mean?" she asked.

"This was a hurried, bungling job," said Pol, "and done by a stupid sort of sneak. He should have punched one or two holes, then cut the sloop adrift again to let her float out and sink in the deep water instead of here, close to the shore where it is shallow. Her cabin was almost awash at low tide, and she is light of draught. The chances are that he was to be paid for it, but that when it was discovered early this morning that he had bungled it and the price was not forthcoming. So he has sneaked back through that patch of trees on the other side of this pasture, and is at this moment waiting for us to leave to finish his job."

Weather Last Week Favorable to Crops

Some Damage Done by Heavy Rains and Flooded Streams in Nodaway River Bottoms, Says Report.

"The week ending Tuesday morning, June 22, was very favorable for farm work generally, and favorable for crops in all sections save the southeast counties, where drought still persists," says the weekly weather and crop bulletin for Missouri, issued by George Reeder of Columbia, meteorologist for the United States Department of Agriculture.

"The prevailing warmth," the report continues, "was moderate for summer; the sunshine was 58 per cent of the possible, while the rainfall was generous to heavy in all sections, except the southeast. Over most of the State the weekly totals ranged from nearly two inches in the southern half to four and five inches in the northern half. The adverse features were some local downpours and resulting damage by washing soil, flooded streams and bottom lands. This last was particularly true of the Nodaway River bottoms.

"The wheat crop is filling and ripening quite satisfactorily. Winds and heavy rains caused a small amount of lodging. Harvest has begun as far north as the Missouri River counties and is well underway in the more southern sections. Oats show material improvement where rains have been plentiful.

"Corn averages small but is making fine growth in spite of the rather cool nights. The crop is generally well cultivated and the moisture was largely absorbed by the soil.

"Cotton looks well on most low lands, it averages 6 to 8 inches high, is well cultivated and chopped out. All crops in the southeast need rain.

"As a rule grass and most fruits are doing well. The second alfalfa crop is nearly ripe.

"Commercial strawberry picking is practically done."

The week's rainfall in Maryville was 1.2 inches, as against an average of 1.58 for the state and a thirty-six year normal of 1.01. The total state rainfall, April 1 to date, is given as 8.48 inches, which is still under the thirty-six year normal of 11.75 inches.

White House roof needs repairing, which comes from raising it so often.

Closing Grain Review.

Chicago, June 24.—Wheat and corn displayed real strength today and closed fractionally above yesterday's final figures, although it was one of the dullest trading days that the Board of Trade has even seen. Oats was steady in sympathy with other pits.

There was some buying of wheat early in the session on the strength of Liverpool cables but this met with persistent selling. Reports of hail and further rain in Kansas caused a rally in which not only all of the day's losses were recovered but a good fractional advance over the previous close was registered in all positions.

Corn closed well above Wednesday's figures for all deliveries. Prices advanced early in the day only to slump with wheat. Cash prices are half a cent higher.

Oats like corn advanced early and then sagged. However, this pit did not stage the comeback that the others did.

GOOD HEALTH NECESSARY

Many Busy Women Owe Their Health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Fifty years ago there were few occupations for women. Some taught school, some did housework, some found work to do at home and a few took up nursing.

Today there are very few occupations not open to women. Today they work in factories with hundreds of other women and girls. There are also women architects, lawyers, dentists, executives, and legislators. But all too often a woman wins her economic independence at the cost of her health.

Mrs. Elizabeth Chamberlain who works in the Unionall factory making overalls writes that she got "wonderful results" from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Mrs. Chamberlain lives at 500 Monmouth St., Trenton, N. J. She recommends the Vegetable Compound to her friends in the factory and will gladly answer any letters she gets from women asking about it.

If Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped other women, why shouldn't it help you?

GREAT SERVICE STIRS MILLION

HELD BEFORE LAKE ST. MARY'S ALTAR.

CLIMAX TO CONGRESS

Age-Old Pageantry Of Church Performed—By Far More Impressive Program of Gathering.

Mundelein, Ill., June 24.—A sudden, violent rain storm, accompanied by hail about the size of cherry seeds, late today drove the mammouth crowd of about a million persons attending the final session of the twenty-eighth international Eucharistic congress to cover.

Several women were crushed in the mad rush for shelter and many high dignitaries were drenched in the downpour.

Mundelein, Ill., June 24.—Before a specially constructed outdoor altar on the banks of Lake St. Marys, the age old pageantry of the Catholic church was performed today before the eyes of more than 1,000,000 reverent pilgrims. It was the concluding program of the 28th International Eucharistic Congress and it was by far the most impressive.

Mundelein, which was so named in honor of Chicago's newly elevated prince of the church, George Cardinal Mundelein, is a gem of mediaeval beauty set down in the rolling hills of Northern Illinois with just enough of the modern touch to lend it added magnificence.

When first it was decided to hold the closing event of the Eucharistic Congress in this scenic spot, traffic engineers said it would be impossible to bring 1,000,000 people to a country hillside.

But the clergy insisted and so the plans were worked out over a period of two years so that the "impossible" was made a reality.

Dawn had hardly broken over the Lake Michigan horizon until long lines of automobiles from Chicago and Milwaukee were making their way to Mundelein. At 3 a. m., special trains on the Chicago and North Shore electric line started service at intervals of two minutes. Three steam railroads—the Chicago and Northwestern, the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, and the Soo Line—brought their respective quota. Each hour added thousands to the number of people who came from the four corners of the world to witness this most magnificent of all liturgical pageants and to pay reverence to the Sacrament of the Blessed Eucharist.

The central scene of the pageant was set before the entrance to the dignified chapel which looks out over the calm waters of Lake St. Marys. Here a huge altar was built and nearby was a magnificent purple throne for John Cardinal Bonzano, personal representative of Pope Pius. Twelve cardinal thrones for the other princes of the church were erected fanlike to the right and to the left of the altar.

Space was reserved near the altar for the bishops and another space near by for more than 5,000 priests. The laity was kept at a distance but within sight of all that transpired. Huge amplifiers transmitted every word to the 1,000,000 onlookers.

The festivities were to start at 10 a. m., with Cardinal Bonzano celebrating high pontifical mass in vestments that have been preserved through the ages for just such purposes as these. Services at the altar and the throne were to be of three hours duration and followed by a sermon by His Eminence Patrick Cardinal Hayes, archbishop of New York.

Then, shortly after noon—with more pilgrims still coming by motorcade and trains—the beautiful procession around Lake St. Marys was to start. It was a procession two miles in length and the march was of three miles, so that the first of the procession was nearly back to its starting place before the last of the procession started. It was estimated in advance that the procession would not be completed until 6 p. m., at which time Cardinal Bonzano was to intone the words of the Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament which brings the Eucharistic Congress to a formal close.

Never before have 1,000,000 people been assembled on a site so remote and never before has so huge a crowd been so orderly and reverent. Spacious as the grounds were, it was estimated that at the peak of the day no person had more than 10 square feet of elbow room and yet they stood by the hour as the magnificent spectacle was unfolded before them—a spectacle never before enacted in the United States and only once before on this continent.

The transportation feat of bringing 1,000,000 people here and getting them back to Chicago and other nearby cities was said to have surpassed all records for handling of crowds. The nearest aproach, it was said, was the handling of the crowds which witnessed the coronation of King Edward VII of England.

The sun will be low in the western sky before the great pageant is completed and it will be midnight before the vast throng has been transported away from the scene. Many will encamp in their automobiles for the night rather than risk the dangers of traffic congestion between here and Chicago.
